

Good Agricultural Practices (GAP)

Upcoming GAP Trainings

The OSU Produce Safety Team with support from Rural Action will offer two 3-hour Good Agricultural Practices (GAP) classes in Athens and Perry County respectively on April 22. Rural Action will host the Athens class and the Perry County Farmers Market Cooperative will host the Perry County training in Somerset.

April 22 | 1:00 – 4:00 pm

Kuhre Center for Rural Renewal (9030 Hocking Hills Drive, The Plains OH 45780)

Cost of attendance: $20 payable to OSU – pre-registration is required

April 22 | 6:00 – 9:00 pm

Somerset Courthouse (100 Public Square, Somerset OH 43783)

Cost of attendance: $20 payable to OSU – pre-registration is required

About the Workshops

The Produce Safety Team will present the most up-to-date information on Good Agricultural Practices and how to incorporate these practices on the farm. The presentation will utilize hands-on activities and demonstrations to engage the audience and facilitate a more meaningful session. Attendees will receive materials including: an Ohio State Good Agricultural Practices binder, current Ohio State and/or FDA factsheets along with anticipated supporting materials when they become available to utilize. These materials are provided to enable GAP training recipients to implement the Good Agricultural Practices discussed during the program at their own operations. Participants will receive certificates of attendance. For more information about GAP training, visit www.producesafety.osu.edu

To Register

Contact Tom Redfern

Rural Action | Sustainable Agriculture Coordinator

740-677-4047 or tomr@ruralaction.org

Perry County
Farmers Markets
Co-operative

