

Save The Date!

Good Agricultural Practices

Food Safety Training, Marion Community Center

Join us for a day filled with produce safety education. Starting at 10:00AM, listen to updates and information on the Food Safety Modernization Act (FSMA) as well as local health regulations and other food safety information. At 1:00PM, OSU Produce Safety Team member Hal Kneen will present the Good Agricultural Practices (GAPs) training. Topics include: cost and impacts of foodborne pathogens, strategies for controlling food safety hazards, food safety at all stages of production, and food safety plan writing. Attendees will receive handouts, a resource workbook and a certificate of participation. Hope to see you there!

Thursday, November 21, 2013

1:00PM-4:00PM

Location: Marion Community Center, 7474 College Street, Chesterhill, Ohio

Cost: $20.00

Details: To register, contact Tom Redfern at 740-677-4047 or tomr@ruralaction.org. Limited number of scholarships available. Pre-registration is encouraged, but walk-ins are welcome. Lunch is available for a small donation.

For additional information on the GAPs training program, contact Lindsey Hoover at 330-202-3555 x2918 or hoover.482@osu.edu

For more information about the Ohio State Produce Safety Team, visit
www.producesafety.osu.edu

Ohio Agricultural Research and Development Center
Ohio State University Extension